RE: Interstate Agreement on Detainers

In Cuyler v. Adams, 66 L.Ed.2d 641 (1981), the United States Supreme Court held that when a state requests an inmate through the Interstate Agreement on Detainers, the inmate has the right to a judicial hearing in which the inmate can bring a limited challenge to the receiving state's custody request. This decision does not apply to that inmate who requests disposition of an outstanding detainer and initiates a request for disposition of the pending charges.

The attached forms should be completed and notarized to insure that subject is aware of his right to challenge his return to the requesting state through the filing of a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

This form should be forwarded to the Department of Corrections to the attention of the Releases and Agreement Officer as soon as it is completed.
